Art and culture touch every part of our lives, giving us ways to speak the unspeakable and bridge with communities in times of triumph and tragedy. Art allows us to engage with different ideas and points of view. We need artists and artists need time, space and resources to further their practices.

Artists need residencies.

Our work at Artist Communities Alliance (ACA) is to serve as a connector, advocating for artists, culture workers, and freedom of expression. We are here to partner with you—and our collective work is more urgent than ever as we continue to endure today's Culture Wars. We must stay vigilant in uplifting our communities.

Please consider donating to ACA today. Your contribution will allow us to continue doing what we do best: championing the work of artists and organizations that believe art is essential to human progress.

We are forever grateful for your support.

In community,

Lisa Funderburke Hoffman
